

Welcome to Business Unlimited!

Congratulations on increasing your company's productivity through a unified communications solution and thank you for choosing Northland! Throughout the process, you will work with several of our team members to implement Business Unlimited. Below you will find what to expect and a checklist of items to complete in order to get your new technology up and running.

Part One: Building Your Solution

Your personal sales representative will review a detailed questionnaire with you to determine what your system needs in order to implement Business Unlimited. This questionnaire will include:

- + Temporarily installing a test telephone on your network.
- + Completing a network assessment to simulate multiple VoIP test calls.

- + Reviewing your current Internet, firewall and LAN equipment setup.
- + Thoroughly assessing your current data cabling.
- + Identifying your installation and training needs.

Part Two: Building Your System

Once you have signed your contract for Business Unlimited, you will receive an email including a link to complete your System Programming Form.

Please complete the System Programming Form within 3 business days.

The installation of your Business Unlimited system cannot move forward until we have received and verified your system programming form.

When you return your System Programming Form, you will receive a call to setup a review with one of our BU Ops Specialists.

After verifying your System Programming Form, we will configure your equipment and prepare for shipment.

Your equipment is on its way. You will receive emails with tracking information, as well as guides showing you how to install your equipment, download software, and a CommPortal guide for user administration after installation. Please feel free to share these links with your colleagues who will be using the equipment and software.

When you have finished testing your equipment, please email projectmanagement@northland.net to test your equipment and schedule your cutover date. This date is when we will port your phone number from your current provider to Business Unlimited.

Once your number has been ported from your current provider, you can enjoy Business Unlimited!
